

HAVE YOU SEEN THE LIGHT?

bursting white through the window illuminating stars around her head have you heard the voice of the sweet soul departed singing he's arisen from the dead, from the dead

so much bigger than me we only know so little when it comes to the real important things love is the answer but i can't recall the question about us close together in a dream, in a dream shall i keep my candle burning through the dark days without you and prayerful nights beside your empty bed still waiting on the rainbow that breaks the cloud of sorrow and shows me where you're walking on ahead, on ahead
